I had the same experience as Walt, except my stack looks more like 8 inches. I have to admit they get a sympathetic ear from Commissioners who hear nothing but recruitment and retention complaints from all divisions. I recognize that we're in a negotiation, and I gave them no commitment other than hear them out, which I did. I'd like to hear more about the proposed AO, though.

I, for one have been contacted, and left with an approximate 5 inch high stack of paperwork. I do recall that this general issue has been discussed between all of us earlier, I also understand that we are working for a fair resolution to these negations and had stated so.

I'm aware that Bruce Ludwig, Business Agent for the APEA-Supervisory Unit, has either met with some you or is requesting a meeting with you. I want to remind you that labor negotiations are just that - negotiations. We have been negotiating in good faith with the union which represents some employees in your department.

I have my charge from Governor Palin and I understand what the bottom line is. What I need you to do, is remember that as Bruce tells you his concerns - you have perhaps not heard the issues from my perspective.

Please contact me directly with any questions you might have as a result of your conversations with Bruce. I have done more to be transparent about labor negotiations than, I believe, any other Commissioner, by posting our last best offers online. You can access that information here:

We are all in this together. We all need quality, professional State employees. Governor Palin has the draft administrative order I referred to in our last Cabinet meeting and I expect we'll be moving forward shortly.

Thanks for your patience.

Subject: Alaska HB 162

Dear Governor Palin,
I have introduced myself to you on several previous occassions, (Republican Womens Club in Wasilla) (VA-Pioneer Home- Long term Care issues). I represent Primerica Financial Services as a Regional Vice President, my office is in Wasilla serving the needs of the Mat-Su valley. My husband & I have lived in Alaska for over thirty years, raised four children here and built a very successful small business.

As you sign HB 162 in the near future, Please know it will impact not only my business, but the future mortgage loan business of every one of our Primerica agents in the State. Just this week, in Wasilla alone, I have submitted nearly one million dollars worth of re-finance applications as we assist our Mat-Su Valley residents with debt consolidation and fixed rate mortgages . HB 162 will add irrelevant & redundant continuing education and licensing costs to our agents .(You might investigate who will gain enormous profits from this venture)

The Bill is passed ,HOWEVER, WITH YOUR INTERVENTION, the interpretation that Primerica will qualify for an exemption is a very real and legal possibility, this will keep many of our agents from having to resign, which will result in fewer choices for our fellow Alaskan consumers ,.not to mention the demise of many more opportunities for Small Businesses as our agents open their new offices.

My National Sales director, Randy Weddel will be calling your office for an appointment to discuss this issue in August or September.

Thanks for all you are doing for our great State of Alaska
Sincerely,
Phyllis Hoffman RVP

Pls gather their info from them at tonight's conclusion - you can drop off at my house and I'll be ready to go asap. I may make a few more phone calls but, confidentially, will be announcing very soon. Make them hand over their info though, including written responses to their interviews so I have all the same info that they have.

I'm glad today's ADN story accurately my comments about no more politics as usual - and about personal integrity being the requirement for finding replacement.

Also, did you see Paul Fuhs' blog about Bitney and "...what was she thinking?!..." Yep, sounds like Bitney is spinning his interpretation of his departure in a perverse way while we graciously have kept our mouths shut. The posts further went on to claim, essentially, that Bitney was the only competent one on the third floor. Sheeeesh - what a slap he and his buds are getting some glee out of.

I spoke to Steve Colligan this morning and the public address by candidates for the District 14 seat is tonight, 7pm at the Sports Complex. The public and media are invited to attend. At the conclusion of the public address this evening, the committee will announce those candidates that will be forwarded to the Governor (likely around 9pm). Steve said that there is good possibility that the list will not be limited to just three and could be up to four or five. He also stated that they realize that you do not have to select someone from their list. The process has included written and in-person interviews concluding with tonight's public address. Candidates are scored on each aspect. Scores are kept private. I understand that Dan Kennedy and Cathy Giesel have been involved in the tallying of scores. Scores will not be released to the media.

I plan to attend the public address. Sharon, we should have a statement ready in anticipation of the release of names.

I have two extradition orders here that I should sign. One is for a fugitive in Alaska who committed multiple offenses in the State of California including 2 counts of selling a controlled substance, possession and operating a vehicle under the influence of a controlled substance. The other order is for a fugitive from Washington that has been charged with burglary in the first degree, malicious mischief in the first degree, theft in the first degree, felony harassment, possession of explosives without a permit, and possession of a short-barreled shotgun.

To authorize the extraditions, I do need to sign an affidavit stating that I have personally talked to you by phone and you authorized me to sign the orders. I was unable to reach you on the cell but if we could touch base briefly, I can get these back to the criminal division for action. Thank you.

Subject: AK Humanities Forum

I spoke with the executive director of the Alaska Humanities Forum today (Dr. Greg Kimura). They have a couple of seats open on their board that are actual forum appointments (not appointments the governor directly makes).

Dr. Kimura would like to fill those seats with people Governor Palin is close with or knows well. He suggested Meg Stapleton and Talis Colberg. He said he met with Meg back during her KTUU days about serving on the board and would still be interested in her serving (of course only if time allows with her busy schedule at home and work). Talis served on the board a couple of years ago when he was on the Assembly and worked in private practice. I will talk to Meg and Talis if you are interested in having them serve on this board and if they feel comfortable with the added time commitment. It's a unique opportunity to work with the Humanities Forum on appointments that they make at their discretion. They also asked for your feedback. If there is anybody you have in mind for this board they would graciously accept your input.

The Humanities Forum develops programs, projects and policies as they relate to encouraging interest in the humanities in Alaska. It's a 6 year term and members meet 3 times a year in 2 day meetings.

Subject: Capitol Creep

Good day! Next week I will be in Ketchikan speaking to the Ketchikan Rotary (Tuesday). I'm told a group of 15 people from Juneau will fly in for the meeting and I expect them to ask questions about "Capitol Creep." Can you let me know how you have been addressing such questions, if at all, or if you have any suggestions for me. (Particularly as it relates to the PPT special session).

The only other related question I anticipate would have to do with the Marine Highway System headquarters remaining in Ketchikan. I don't anticipate you changing AMHS headquarters back to Juneau, but if asked the question do you have anything I should say or know? Thanks!

Subject: Account Ready for AK Cleaners

Hello Governor,

The account at Alaska Cleaners is AK43254 and titled Office of the Governor. If additional staff or family members need to be added to the account, please let me know. The account is good at all of their Anchorage and Wasilla locations.

I really look forward to seeing you and Willow! Piper has an open TA to return to Juneau, and there are picnics scheduled in Anchorage to process another TA. Just a thought...

Have a great weekend!
Erika

Hi Kris,

Please have someone collect the receipts and send them to the House, as they're paid through that account. If there are any problems, please let me know right away so we can work them out.

Hello Governor,
They are setting up an account at AK Cleaners (Anch.& Wasilla) under Governor's Office with you and Todd as signers. I'll let you know as soon as the paper work goes through. The House pays for the cleaners, so just have someone from the Anch. office send the receipts to me. Please note if any items on the receipt are not yours, so they are not inadvertently paid.
Thank you,

About the Conference

On May 9, 2007, the White House released Homeland Security Presidential 20, HSPD-20, which mandated that government agencies appoint a senior-level official at the assistant secretary level as their continuity of operations (COOP) coordinators who would prepare plans, budgets and exercises to test agencies' COOP plans each year. The mandate, which requires implementation in the next 90 days, is designed to ensure that government agencies are capable of initiating COOP plans with little or no notice to remain open and ready to deal with terrorist, manmade or natural threats and disasters.

The Continuity of Government Operations and Telework Training Conference is about best practices, lesson-learned and current thinking in the development of agency mission continuity plans. As a baseline of preparedness for the full range of potential emergencies, all government agencies, including federal, state, local, and counties shall have in place a viable COOP capability which ensures the performance of their essential functions during any emergency or situation that may disrupt normal operations. County and local governments have to deal with events such as hurricanes, fires, or floods that would require them to relocate their operations for an extended period of time. The changing threat environment and recent emergencies, including localized acts of nature, accidents, technological emergencies, and military or terrorist attack-related incidents, have shifted awareness to the need for COOP capabilities that enable agencies to continue their essential functions across a broad spectrum of emergencies.

Telework is an essential element of federal agencies' COOP Planning. In the aftermath of the events of September 11, 2001, it has become increasingly evident that Federal agencies need to consider a full range of possibilities related to how and where their work is accomplished. Continuity of operations relies more than ever on enabling government employees and contractors to work from any location. Both the White House and the House Reform Committee in their recent discussions of COOP, especially in the event of a pandemic, emphasized telework as a critical component in any COOP plan.

COOP planning as an effort to assure that the capability exists to continue essential agency functions across a wide range of potential emergencies. The objectives of a COOP plan may include:

- Ensuring the continuous performance of an agency's essential functions/operations during an emergency
- Protecting essential or backup capabilities of facilities, equipment, records, and other assets
- Reducing or mitigations disruptions to operations
- Reducing loss of life, minimizing damage and losses
- Achieving a timely and orderly recovery for an emergency and resumption of full services to customers
- Teleworking

I'm aware that Bruce Ludwig, Business Agent for the APEA-Supervisory Unit, has either met with some you or is requesting a meeting with you. I want to remind you that labor negotiations are just that - negotiations. We have been negotiating in good faith with the union which represents some employees in your department.

I have my charge from Governor Palin and I understand what the bottom line is. What I need you to do, is remember that as Bruce tells you his concerns - you have perhaps not heard the issues from my perspective.

Please contact me directly with any questions you might have as a result of your conversations with Bruce. I have done more to be transparent about labor negotiations than, I believe, any other Commissioner, by posting our last best offers online. You can access that information here:

We are all in this together. We all need quality, professional State employees. Governor Palin has the draft administrative order I referred to in our last Cabinet meeting and I expect we'll be moving forward shortly.

Thanks for your patience.

Fellow Commissioners,

I had a similar meeting today with Mr. Ludwig. Earlier, I had read the stack of emails from DEC employees that he had provided to my office. The points he covered in our meeting were consistent with what I read in the employee emails and in a study on job satisfaction recently completed for DEC by the McDowell Group. More competitive salaries and benefits was a common theme.

Recruitment and retention are a challenge for all of our departments. There is the overriding need for a sustainable operating budget. At the same time we have an aging workforce and a lot of competition from private employers and the federal government in hiring young, talented people.

I look forward to working with Annette and the rest of you on this. I appreciate Annette providing the draft AO at the last cabinet meeting.

Subject: RE: Labor Negotiations

I, for one have been contacted, and left with an approximate 5 inch high stack of paperwork. I do recall that this general issue has been discussed between all of us earlier, I also understand that we are working for a fair resolution to these negations and had stated so.

Commissioners:

I'm aware that Bruce Ludwig, Business Agent for the APEA-Supervisory Unit, has either met with some you or is requesting a meeting with you. I want to remind you that labor negotiations are just that - negotiations. We have been negotiating in good faith with the union which represents some employees in your department.

I have my charge from Governor Palin and I understand what the bottom line is. What I need you to do, is remember that as Bruce tells you his concerns - you have perhaps not heard the issues from my perspective.

Please contact me directly with any questions you might have as a result of your conversations with Bruce. I have done more to be transparent about labor negotiations than, I believe, any other Commissioner, by posting our last best offers online. You can access that information here:

http://www.state.ak.us/local/akpages/ADMIN/LaborContractUpdate.shtml

We are all in this together. We all need quality, professional State employees. Governor Palin has the draft administrative order I referred to in our last Cabinet meeting and I expect we'll be moving forward shortly.

Thanks for your patience.

OK. For some reason, they require that I sign and have notarized a form that states I have talked to you about the case.

A new request just came in regarding a case from Oregon. A man has fled on charges of burglary in the first degree and violation of his terms of parole. If you are OK, I will sign that one as well.

Subject: Extradition

Governor,

I have two extradition orders here that I should sign. One is for a fugitive in Alaska who committed multiple offenses in the State of California including 2 counts of selling a controlled substance, possession and operating a vehicle under the influence of a controlled substance. The other order is for a fugitive from Washington that has been charged with burglary in the first degree, malicious mischief in the first degree, theft in the first degree, felony harassment, possession of explosives without a permit, and possession of a short-barreled shotgun.

To authorize the extraditions, I do need to sign an affidavit stating that I have personally talked to you by phone and you authorized me to sign the orders. I was unable to reach you on the cell but if we could touch base briefly, I can get these back to the criminal division for action. Thank you.

Mike
